REAL ESTATE MEN.

They Board the Raymond For a Trial Trip.

WILL BE PART OF THE CARNIVAL.

The Sales Made and Filed for Record Yesterday—Other Business and Realty Matters.

There was a goodly attendance at the real estate exchange meeting, yesterday morning. Lynch & Carroll offered a piece of property on North Temple street at $125 per foot, which constituted the day's business in that line, the principal business being the consideration of to-day's trip to the Ogden carnival. Superintendent Lett was appointed to secure transportation and report to an extra meeting at 5 o'clock.

When the meeting reassembled Mr. Lett announced that the party would go via the Union Pacific, leaving the depot at 8:10 this morning. Upon their arrival in Ogden they will be placed in Grant Bros.' big excursion coach "Raymond," drawn by eight horses and will be assigned a commodious place in the parade. Each member will wear a linen duster and a silk hat. An elegant banner bearing the motto, "Salt Lake Real Estate Exchange, Rex II," will be carried. Two buglers have been secured, and the Ogdenites may rest assured that the Salt Lake delegation will form a very prominent feature of the day's festivities. The party is composed of John Johnson, J. H. Hannan, G. A. Edwards, A. J. Gunnell, Fred J. Leonard, E. L. Gray, E. F. Jones, J. W. Whiteland, Jr., J. M. Kennedy, T. A. Wickert, A. H. Mayne, W. J. Harvey, Alfred Dunbar, Louis F. Kullak, C. E. Faustland, Arthur H. Parsons, W. L. Brown, E. C. Woodrow, E. B. Walker, J. M. Wilson, H. C. Lett, W. H. Solis, W. H. Lett, W. F. Shelton, H. V. Midoy, A. M. James, D. Van Buskirk, G. R. Delevy, J. C. Conklin, Charles H. Schroeder, J. S. Durgin, A. J. Barney, W. L. Barrett, Earl D. Gray, T. L. Bowman, John Montgomery, John Groesbeck, H. Hardy, and John T. Lynch. In consequence of this visit there will be no meeting of the exchange to-day.

The party will return this evening. The Raymond was sent up to Ogden last evening, and was escorted to the depot by members of the exchange. They gave three cheers and a tiger for the "Giant of the Rockies" as they passed THE HERALD corner.

SURPRISED AT THE WEST

And Has Unbounded Admiration For and Faith in Salt Lake.

Frank J. Hight, professor of Latin and Greek in Keystone academy, of Factoryville, Pa., has been spending several days in Salt Lake city. Mr. Hight never was west before, although his father was one of the pioneers of '49, and his surprise at the growth of the country and its advanced civilization was indeed great.

Next I reached Denver. Here a surprise. I was looking for Indians, you know. Then I made up my mind that at Cheyenne I would get a touch of the west—another city. All the way over I have seen nothing but towns and no Indians and no bears. Why the nearest approach to an antelope was a jack rabbit. And when I got here I find a city of 50,000 people all alive and pushing. This is indeed a magic country, and but for the fact that I have a good situation at home, I think I would come here to live. The climate is just glorious. And the Great Salt Lake beats anything I ever saw. Why, back east they think it is a small affair. You people ought to advertise more and I am sure, in a short time, you will double your population."

Yes, Glassworks Will Pay.

Secretary Montgomery, of the real estate exchange, yesterday received a letter from a firm operating glassworks in Ohio and Pennsylvania, the members of which evidently desire to locate in Salt Lake. In the communication the firm asserts that it will employ about one hundred and fifty men and that the pay-roll will amount to nearly fifteen thousand dollars monthly. A series of questions are propounded regarding the advantages of the location, and the corporation wishes to know what kind of fuel is most plentiful, whether natural gas or coal; if the latter, the price per ton, and the quality of the same; the quality and price of sand and the railroad facilities. Mr. Montgomery will reply to the letter at an early day.

WITH BULLS AND BEARS.

A Lively Session, With Very Brisk Business—The Sales Made.

Yesterday morning's session of the stock exchange was a lively one and business was indeed brisk. The number of brokers was considerably increased, several new faces being noticeable.

One feature of the day's business was Bamberger unloading same Utah Lime and Cement company's stock to Treweek at $7.75. This is the first sale of this stock in several days.

At the opening Callier Murray announced that hitherto the rules of the exchange had been violated as regards bidding. On all stock selling under 15 cents bids must not range less than 1/2 cent. Soon after this announcement Bamberger started bidding 13 1/2 for Barnes, the previous bid being 14. Murray fined him one dollar and as Bamberger stuck to his bidding he kept it up until Jake had $20 assessed against him. Then Murray discovered that he was mistaken and sent out for a box of cigars.

The following is the day's business:

DR. SMITH,

The Magnetic Physician, at No. 253 South, West Temple Street.

Dr. Smith has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine and surgery for a quarter of a century. Eighteen years of this time he was in general practice in Michigan. He first graduated from what is known as the Regular or Allopathic School of Medicine in 1863, and from the Michigan Homeopathic College in 1872. From the Detroit Homeopathic college in 1874, and from the Hahnemann Medical college of Chicago, Ill., in 1879. He is endorsed by some of the leading physicians of the United States. E. R. Ellis, M. D., of Detroit, Mich., late professor of surgery in the Detroit Homeopathic college, says:

I have been acquainted with Dr. Frank B. Smith over fifteen years, during most of which time he was a practicing physician in Michigan. Among his patrons and the medical profession of the state he stood high as a physician of skill and good judgment. During the years of 1887 and 1888 Dr. Smith owned an interest in and was manager of the River Park Hotel Sanatorium and White Sulphur Springs at Wyandotte, Mich., ten miles below Detroit and on the Detroit river.

The following letter from Dr. S. B. Wright will speak for itself.

To whom it may concern:—I, the undersigned physician and surgeon, located in the city of Wyandotte for the past eighteen years, do hereby certify that Dr. Frank B. Smith, formerly of the River Park Hotel Sanatorium, this city, is in every respect a first class physician and surgeon, well qualified by study, experience and by nature to take charge of the sick under any and all circumstances. I know whereof I speak. I not only know of his handling many with great skill and success, but I have had the practical part demonstrated to me. One year since, I was a very sick man, the doctor came to my relief and I am certain saved my life.

The late Prof. E. C. Franklin of St. Louis, Mo., writing of Dr. Smith, said: I have been personally and professionally acquainted with Dr. Frank B. Smith upwards of sixteen years, during which time I never heard a word spoken against either. My own knowledge of Dr. Smith is that of a professional gentleman of the finest character and reputation. He is unquestionably the peer of any practitioner in America. I take great pleasure in recommending him to all my friends and conferees.

Dr. E. C. FRANKLIN.

For the past two weeks Dr. Smith has been publicly treating the sick free of charge at the G. A. R. Hall every morning from 10 to 11 o'clock. But on account of the large number of people who consult him at his parlors, No. 253 South, West Temple Street, from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. daily, he has been obliged to discontinue his free lectures and public healing at the G. A. R. Hall. If possible he will resume them again in the near future. In the meantime, those who desire to consult him can do so at his parlors, No. 253 South, West Temple Street, free of charge, from 6 a. m. until 6 p. m. daily, except Sundays. Dr. Smith treats all forms of chronic diseases. His method of curing disease by the laying on of hands is similar to that of the late Dr. Newton. During the past seven years he has visited all of the large cities in the United States and has cured thousands of helpless invalids upon the public stage, simply by laying his hands upon the afflicted parts, seldom over disease none but the ignorant doubt. It is an absolute fact, that hundreds of helpless invalids have been restored to healthfulness by this strange power after all other means had failed. If you or any of your relatives, go and see Dr. Smith before you give up in despair. Remember, if you will, that you absolutely nothing, and you will have a friendly talk with him about your complaint. If he cannot help you he will frankly tell you so. If he can help you he will expect you to pay him a reasonable fee.
